3rd Charge Filed Against Schrunk

Grand Jury Indicts 3 Union Officials

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A third charge was filed against Mayor Terry Schrunk Monday night as five spools of tape recordings embroiled men on both sides of a vice controversy in Portland.

The 44-year-old mayor, previously accused of taking a bribe and of lying when he denied receiving the bribe, was charged with making copies of the tape recordings after seizing them in a raid last year.

That was when he was sheriff. He said earlier he had made the copies in case the originals were destroyed or stolen.

A grand jury said the recordings contained conversations obtained through illegal wiretaps, and that making copies of them was as illegal as making the originals.

The same spools have the mayor's enemy, Gambler Big Jim Elkins, 55, under indictment. He is accused in federal court of making the originals.

Selection of a jury for the Elkins trial is scheduled to start today.

Also scheduled to go into court today is ist. Atty. William Langley, 41, who was convicted last weekend of failing to prosecute gamblers. He will move for a new trial.

Langley and the mayor assert they are victims of a frameup by Elkins.

All three earlier were witnesses in Washington, D.C., before the Senate Rackets Committee.

The grand jury Monday also indicted three Teamsters Union officials — Clyde C. Crosby, 46, international representative in Oregon; Frank P. Malloy, 45, business agent of Local 223; and Lew Cornelius, 55, secretary-treasurer of Local 162. All were accused of perjury in denying knowledge of Teamster attempts to move in on the pinball machine business.

Judge Denies IBOP Request For Verdict

LISBON — Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp Monday denied a request for a directed verdict by counsel for the International Brotherhood of Operative Pottery in the suit filed against the union by James Duffy, a former president.

Duffy brought legal action against the IBOP after union officials prevented his name from being entered as a candidate for the IBOP presidency. The IBOP contended Duffy had not worked a full year for a pottery just prior to his filing for office.

The union counsel asked for the directed verdict on the grounds that Duffy had failed to show evidence that he was entitled to remedy from the court.

In turning down the union request, Judge Sharp said that according to the evidence so far, it appeared that Duffy had complied with union requirements for entering his name as a candidate.

The defense's first witness Monday was E. L. Wheatley, president of the IBOP.

Township Votes Raise For Lisbon Firemen

LISBON — Center Township trustees voted Monday to give the Lisbon volunteer firemen a dollar an hour raise for fighting township fires.

Under the new rates the firemen will receive $3 per hour and the chief $5.

Village council at its last meeting voted down a proposed increase for the firemen.

TRUCKERS POST BONDS

Two persons forfeited a total of $83 for trucking overload charges Monday, Mayor Dean B. Cranmer reported today.

Forfeiting bonds were Donald Leichter, 33, of 120 E. 3rd St., $25; and Hubert A. Stephens, 56, of Hanover, Pa., $58.

Senate To Act On Postal Bill

President May Get Measure Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate prepared today to act quickly on 41 million dollars of additional Post Office funds. The House passed the bill to restore normal postal service Monday.

There was a prospect the deficiency measure could reach President Eisenhower's desk late in the day.

In addition to the extra money for the Post Office Department, the bill would provide 481 million dollars for other purposes.

The House sent the bill to the Senate by voice vote late Monday after several hours of debate during which some of the lawmakers criticized Postmaster General Summerfield for ordering service curtailed.

No effort was made in the House to increase the postal money to the 47 million dollars Summerfield has said he must have for the next 2½ months. Two efforts to reduce it to 19 millions were defeated decisively, one by a 121-12 standing vote and one by voice votes.

It appeared that the Senate also would go along with the 41 million dollar figure.

Several senators said they assumed that if the bill goes to Eisenhower today or Wednesday, the major postal service cuts already put into effect will be restored this Saturday.

These cuts were elimination of Saturday home deliveries and the closing to the public of all but fourth class post offices on that day.

In the House debate on the bill, Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the House Appropriations Committee accused Summerfield of "a public be damned attitude" in closing post offices last Saturday.

He said that if Congress bowed to the postmaster general's demand for more money, it would encourage other departments to resist cuts made in their budgets.

Two Drivers Injured In Road Mishaps

Two persons were injured, one seriously, in two auto accidents that occurred on district highways Monday morning.

Steve Cavich, 70, of East Liverpool, is in fairly good condition today in Salem City Hospital with a possible crushed chest and fractured ribs, received when his car was involved in a mishap on Rt. 154, eight miles west of Lisbon Monday at 11:05 a.m.

State patrolmen said Cavich's car collided with an auto operated by Frank Coleman, 51, of Atwater, in the middle of a one-way overpass. Coleman was treated for hip injuries.

The case is still under investigation, patrolmen said.

George Coe Jr., 26, of Warren, was treated at the Salem Central Clinic for abrasions of both knees and lacerations of the head and left wrist after he lost control of his car on a curve and hit an embankment on Rt. 9, three miles south of Kensington, Monday at 6 a.m.

Patrolmen said he was cited for driving with a suspended license.

Knox School Pupils Get 2-Day Vacation

Knox School will be closed Thursday and Friday for a brief Easter recess. Students will resume regular classes Monday morning, according to Principal John Pickens.

School will again be recessed April 24, when Knox teachers will attend a meeting of Mahoning Local School District teachers in the morning, and the Mahoning County Teachers Association conference in Canfield in the afternoon.

A lunch will be served at Knox School following the discussion groups in the morning which will include a review of the curriculum being offered in Mahoning Local schools.

The Knox Township Farmers Institute, recently disbanded, has presented the money remaining in the Institute's treasury, totaling $82.26, to the Knox School library. The Student Council will add funds to the total to purchase $200 worth of film strips for school use.

FINED ON FIRE COUNT

H. C. Marchbanks of near Glasgow was fined $100 and costs by Justice of the Peace Felix Butch of Lisbon Monday night on a charge of burning brush without precaution.

Marchbanks was cited by W. R. Irwin, state forest warden Saturday after a brush fire Marchbanks had ignited spread and burned off 19 acres before it was quelled by firemen and forest wardens.

Bingo Becomes Heated Issue In Ohio; Localities Ask, 'What's The Score?'

By ART PARKS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—To bingo or not to bingo again has become such a heated issue in Ohio that there appears to be a downright necessity for some public service research.

The new governor, C. William O'Neill, broke the old dispute wide open a few days ago when he declared flatly:

"Bingo is illegal in Ohio and it is up to local officials to enforce the law. . . I think decided (court) cases have outlawed bingo in Ohio."

Phone Firms Reap Harvest
Since that time, the telephone companies have reaped a harvest as worried local officials have made call after call to O'Neill and Atty. Gen. William Saxbe. Boiled down, the questions amount to:

"What's the score?"
At the obvious risk of confusing things further, let's begin at the beginning.

What is bingo?
For the benefit of the millions who have spring fever—or who don't own dictionaries—bingo is defined as the equivalent of bean-beginning.

By whatever name you call it, the game works this way: The players buy numbered cards. The person running the game calls out a series of numbers. Whenever a number is called which appears anywhere on his card, the player places a marker on it.

What is bingo?
For the benefit of the millions who have spring fever—or who don't own dictionaries—bingo is defined as the equivalent of bean-

If that isn't too enlightening, beano is defined as the same as keno. And, no kidding, if you look up keno, the dictionary tells you it's the same as lotto.

A persistent dictionary reader-

finally gets down to business on the definition of lotto: It's a "game of chance played with numbered cards."

Whatever The Name Is
By whatever name you call it, the game works this way: The players buy numbered cards. The person running the game calls out a series of numbers. Whenever a number is called which appears anywhere on his card, the player places a marker on it.

When a player finally completes one row of numbers on his card—up and down or across—he calls: "Bingo!" (Of course, if he's playing keno, he calls: "Keno!")

The first person who, by chance, has the legitimate right to yip out the name of the game is the winner. He gets a cash or merchandise prize.

Columbiana Commissioners Ponder Action

Two Counties Still Apart On Share In Children's Home

By LOIS WHITE

The Fairmount Children's Home is expected to be placed on the auction block as soon as Stark County commissioners can place its 100-odd wards there into foster homes.

This appears to be the next move in the drawn-out question of what to do with the Home, in need of repairs and owned jointly by the two counties, following a meeting of commissioners of the two counties yesterday in Alliance.

Stark County commissioners, at yesterday's session, agreed to put the Home and its 155 acres of property up for sale. Columbiana County Commissioners, however, said they needed time to ponder such a move.

It was made clear, however, that the two sides can never reach clear agreement on a sale price for the home. Columbiana commissioners again rejected the $35,000 bid by Stark commissioners for Columbiana's share of the home. In turn, Stark commissioners refused Columbiana's request for $65,000 as its share.

To Meet Again April 29

Columbiana commissioners will meet with Stark commissioners Monday April 29 at 12:30 p.m. at Timb-planes to give their answer to Stark as to whether they will agree to participate in the sale.

If Columbiana refuses to sell, then Stark commissioners will petition to court for the request of sale. If court action were undertaken, then the problem would be placed in the hands of the court which would evaluate the Home's facilities and lands, would ascertain the amount of money each county has put into the home in upkeep and maintenance and other facets, and would decide the percentages of how much each county could gain from the sale.

Therefore, it was made clear that no matter whether Columbiana commissioners agree to selling the home, Columbiana will lose it through a sale. Stark County Prosecutor J. F. Hess Jr., says that Stark does not want to "force the sale," but some solution must be reached quickly.

To Seek Sale Formula

If Columbiana commissioners announce at the April 29 meeting that they agree to the sale then the two groups will get together and devise a "formula" for percentages of proceeds from the sale.

A state fire marshal on March 20 specified that major improvements on the Home must be executed within 60 days. The Stark County grand jury labeled the building a "fire trap."

The basic problem for the past several years has been that Columbiana County has evinced no interest in providing repairs for the home nor in maintaining a financial interest in it because its children were removed in 1947. And no sale price has ever been agreed upon between the two groups.

A ruling by the state examiner has specified that both counties must agree jointly on any capital

Lisbon Road Project Okayed State Will Proceed With Relocation Plans

Plans for the relocation and improvement of the Route 45 Lisbon Road, three and a half miles south of Salem, have been officially adopted by the Ohio Department of Highways.

The $250,000 project, which will eliminate hazardous curves in the Shelton's Grove area, is expected to be let soon for undertaking yet this summer.

A public hearing was held in Salem Feb. 19 when plans for the relocation were explained by highway officials and comments of interested citizens noted by the Highway Department.

The relocation begins at a point on existing Route 45 about four miles north of Lisbon. The route will proceed in a northwest course, crossing the Erie Railroad tracks at Long's crossing.

The new highway will then continue in a northwest direction, crossing the old State Route 45, then crossing Little Beaver Creek and State Route 344, then the old route again. The relocation terminates three and one-half miles from Salem, again connecting with existing Route 45.

Upon completion and acceptance of the new route, the existing State Route 45 will revert to the Columbiana County highway system.

Will Map Strategy To Answer Attacks

Teamsters' Board, Beck In Huddle Today

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Dave Beck and the Teamsters Union Executive committee were to meet here today with five labor attorneys.

From the conference in this resort city's oldest hotel was expected to come the embattled union's strategy for answering congressional and AFL-CIO attacks.

Beck called the conference amid conflicting reports the committee would back him to the man or would attempt to strip him of his tight-fisted control over one of the world's largest labor unions.

The 62-year-old Beck, accused of using $20,000 in union funds for personal projects, made it clear he has no plans of stepping aside voluntarily.

"I'm not planning to retire although I would be money ahead if I did," he said. He offered no explanation but apparently had in mind the $70,000-a-year pension — he reportedly would receive upon retirement.

Beck said he would have no statement to make until today, but told reporters he would "blow the lid right off the Senate" if he told what happened to the union funds.

He said, "A lot of fine people would be embarrassed," adding that he was "taking the rap" while refusing to answer questions at the recent Senate hearings in Washington.

Earlier he said he will seek another five-year term as president at the Teamsters' September convention.

Goodrich Co. Strike Ends

14,000 Workers Return To Jobs

CINCINNATI (AP) — United Rubber Workers went back to their jobs at B. F. Goodrich Co. plants today, after a 15-day strike over unsettled contract negotiations here.

Agreement came in the dispute Monday night, and a union spokesman said the 14,000 Goodrich workers affected will resume their jobs on the earliest possible shifts.

The talks here started March 11, and continued after the old agreement expired March 31.

The basic agreement is still subject to ratification by the members and the union's executive board.

And before it goes into effect, supplementary contracts will be negotiated at each of the nine Goodrich plants, covering issues confined to the individual plant. The agreement continues through April 15, 1959, and includes a 60-day wage reopening clause. In the past, this clause has been exercised once a year. Wages were not an issue here.

The company declined comment on the agreement, but a union negotiator said Monday night he believes "it is a very good settlement, one of the best in the rubber industry."

In Akron, a union spokesman said that about 20 issues were involved and were settled satisfactorily.

Chief among these was the method of determining piece work standards, which was liberalized. This issue had been a matter of friction for about two years.

Other features of the agreement: A three cent increase in night shift bonus at Akron and Clarksville, Tenn., plants.

Enhanced vacation benefits, including three weeks after 11 years' service and four weeks after 25.

Three days' pay for a worker who has a death in his immediate family.

A paid lunch period for workers on certain jobs.

Two weeks' makeup pay for employees on active Reserve military training.

In addition to the Akron and Clarksville plants, Goodrich facilities are at Marion, Ohio; Cadillac, Mich.; Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Miami, Okla.; Oaks, Pa.; Riverside, N. J., and Los Angeles.

103-Year-Old Man Married 3 Years

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — It wasn't just an ordinary third wedding anniversary for John Wesley Baird Monday. It also was his 103rd birthday.

And if that wasn't enough, he danced a jig, enrolled his 72-year-old wife Mertie for Social Security benefits and blew out three candles on a cake presented by the Social Security Administration district office.

She just became eligible after three years of marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Baird were married, both for the second time, April 15, 1954, in celebration of his reaching the century mark.

He explained his few sprightly steps at the Social Security office this way:

CINCINNATI (AP) — The League for Animal Welfare here says it will find a new home for a dog that has watched and waited for weeks by a rural Indiana crossroads, apparently for a master that has never arrived.

A woman who lives near the country crossroad, in southwest Indiana, near Ohio, has fed the dog for the past weeks as it waited at the intersection, scanning and sniffing passersby, but rejecting each.

JESUS LOVED THEM

By PATRICK and GARRISON

THE BAD THIEF

"And one of the malefactors which were hanged railed on him, saying, If thou be Christ, save thyself and us."

— Luke XXIII:39

Even in his death throes, the "bad" thief—Jesus' companion in agony—reviled Him, echoing the mockery of the mob.

But the other thief, recognizing Jesus and trusting in His promise of a life to come, rebuked his unrepentant cohort:

"Dost thou not fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation? And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds; but this man hath done nothing amiss."

But, although this may have silenced the unregenerate man's jeers, it apparently did not persuade him that Jesus was indeed the Redeemer.

This story of the two thieves vividly illustrates the duality of man. His nobler nature—his soul—responds to Truth with the humble request:

"Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom."

But his mortal, physical mind, with its accumulation of evil thoughts, rejects the good.

The words of forgiveness, uttered by the dying Jesus, found no echo in the heart of the bad thief. Only bitter selfishness and resentment that this Man who claimed to be the Messiah could not save Himself, and His two companions along with Him.

But He could not even ease His own suffering. The insults flung up at Him by the crowd were justified. He was a fraud, an impious imposter, the bad thief thought.

Jesus was ready with forgiveness even in the final hour of His earthly life. It was His plan that even the least among men—even a thief—might inherit the kingdom of God.

For no man who lifted up his yearning to Him was denied an answer.

But the bad thief did not ask for that kind of salvation. And thus he closed the door on everlasting life.

Baseball Makes Shambles Out Of Ohio Legislature's 15th Work Week

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some Ohio lawmakers will stay at their posts today, but most of them will be listening for the thrilling phrase:

"Play ball!"

Major league baseball is making a shambles of the 15th legislative week which started Monday night.

Only 19 of 34 members — one more than a constitutional majority — were present in the Senate Monday night. Only 93, slightly under two-thirds, of the House membership was on hand.

Today, because of the baseball openers in Cincinnati and Cleveland, fewer than a majority of the Senate are expected to answer rollcall. It is possible a quorum may be present in the House.

Wednesday is expected to be a full-fledged legislative day, but Thursday, traditionally, will see only a halfhearted session.

A fair-sized group of Capitol newsmen accompanied Gov. C. William O'Neill to the Cincinnati opener today. The party was scheduled to be the guests tonight of the Cincinnati delegation to the Legislature.

After this "lost" week, probably only five more remain in this regular session of the 102nd General Assembly, legislative leaders estimate.

In Monday night's bob-tailed sessions, the most important action was the signing — in both houses — of an emergency bill cutting back the salaries of most of O'Neill's Cabinet members.

It was expected O'Neill would sign the salary cut-back bill sometime today — possibly before his airplane trip to Cincinnati, where he was scheduled to throw out the first ball.

The bill—effective immediately upon the governor's signature—will reduce the salaries of most Cabinet officials $6,000 a year. Most of those making $18,000 will be cut back to $12,000 and those making $16,000 will be reduced to $10,000.

O'Neill asked—and got—quick approval last January of a bill increasing the salaries to their present levels. Then, in a surprise move two weeks ago, he asked that they be cut back to their old levels.

He said he had found that the amount of salary was "not always the controlling factor" when an individual decides whether to accept a Cabinet post. Under the circumstances, he told the Legislature, it would be better, in the interests of economy, to cut the salaries back to their original levels.

The Legislature reluctantly agreed to the "turnabout" policy and the House completed legislative action on the bill last week.

Among the victims of Monday night's absenteeism in the Legislature was a bill by Sen. Robert R. Shaw (R-Franklin) to rid the Capitol grounds of pigeons. Forewarned that Senate Democrats planned to have a "field day" of humor over the bill—and in view of the fact that two negative votes among the 19 senators present could kill it—Shaw succeeded in delaying the vote until another day.

The Senate passed, 19-0, a bill to clarify the law on voting residence of a student attending an away-from-home college or university.

The bill, which now goes to the House, says a student and his spouse must vote in the community in which they lived before enrollment in the institution of higher learning unless the student has established a permanent residence elsewhere.

Only Small Chapel, Staircase Mark Spot Where John Baptized Christ

EDITORS NOTE: By American definition, the River Jordan is no river at all—in most parts of this country it would be called a creek. Yet in the Jordan's muddy water occurred one of the major events of Christ's life. His baptism by John. Here's a report on how the baptismal site looks today.

By WILTON WYNN
Associated Press Writer

JERICHO, Jordan (AP) — Water is exported to the ends of the earth from a muddy creek near here where John baptized Christ.

Vendors display small flasks of water for sale to visitors on the banks of the stream. Regularly huge shipments for use in baptisms go by air and sea to the United States, Europe and the Far East.

The water comes from the point on the Jordan River known as the site of the sacred baptism — which occurred at the start of Christ's three years of public life and teaching.

The site is close to the lowest place on the face of the earth. Within sight is the Dead Sea, 1,000 feet below sea level.

JESUS PROBABLY came to this spot through the Jordan Valley from Galilee in the north. The modern traveler visits the area from Jerusalem. This means he drives in half an hour from Jerusalem's elevation 2,000 feet above sea level to the Jordan at 1,000 feet below.

The road branches off after leaving Jericho and takes the traveler across a flat desert plain, ending at the banks of the Jordan. In winter this low area is comfortably warm; in summer it is suffocatingly hot.

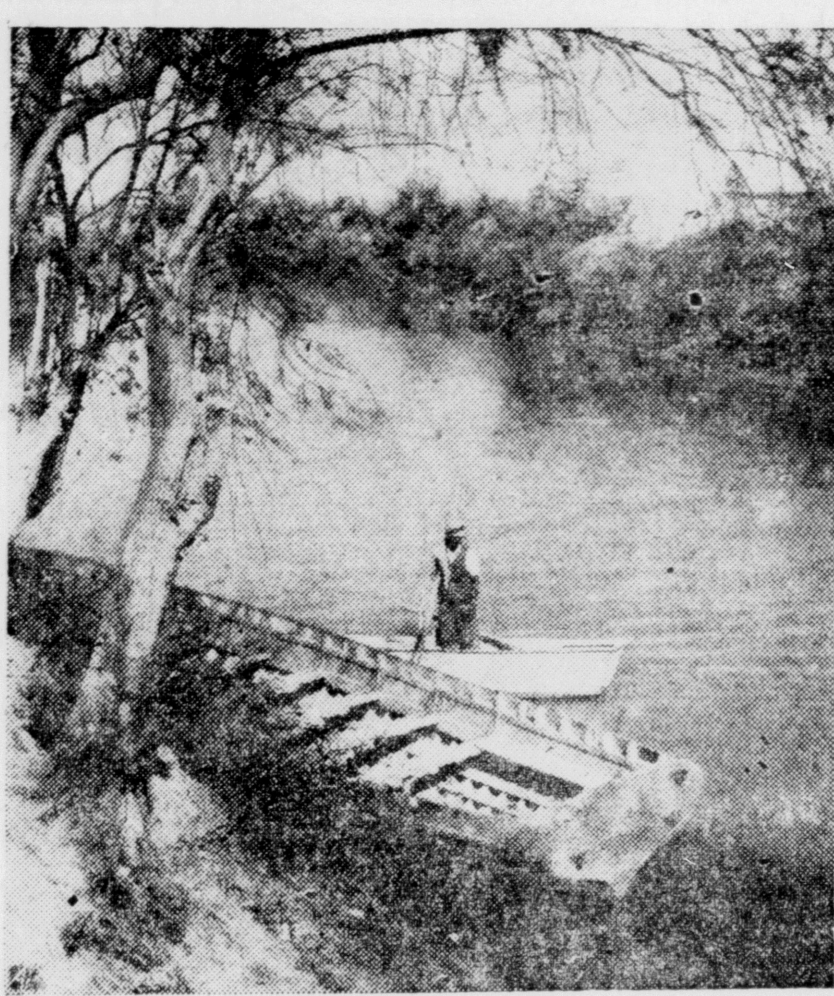

The baptismal site is away from villages or other normal human habitation. Nearby is the Convent of St. John the Baptist first built 1,500 years ago. On the bank of the river stands a Franciscan chapel and a small altar. A stone staircase leads to the water, and nearby two or three vendors sit quietly beside their flasks of water waiting for visiting pilgrims.

Surrounding this point is the "wilderness" where John the Baptist did most of his preaching. The Biblical term "wilderness" must have referred to desert, unless the Jordan Valley has changed drastically since Biblical times. The Jordan plain is green only in the few places where irrigation has permitted cultivation, or where occasional streams water the parched earth. Apart from these verdant spots, the valley is the domain of jackals, hyenas, and wild pigs roaming over rocky soil among desert shrubs. Rising on either side of the Jordan plain are the semi-desert hills of Judea to the west and Moab to the east.

ALTHOUGH THE JORDAN is one of the world's most famous rivers, its small size is a disappointment to most visitors. A stream so narrow in America would be called a creek.

Every Jan. 6 the anniversary of Christ's baptism is observed in a special service on the water. Bearded priests in their vestments stand in a flat-bottomed boat to say Mass over the exact spot where they believe Christ was baptized. In the early centuries of the Christian era the site was marked by a cross standing in the river bed.

Although followers of Christ adopted a ritual for admission to the faith, the baptism by John also has been interpreted as a cleansing ritual. For centuries afterward Christians who already had been baptized would visit the site of the sacred baptism for ceremonial washing. On the eve of the Epiphany, thousands used to collect on the river banks, wrapped in white garments, and bathe in the waters. Lepers and other afflicted persons washed in the river to be cured.

MODERN ECONOMIC planning may affect the site of the sacred baptism in the next few years. A vast irrigation scheme for the Jordan Valley calls for diverting the waters of the Jordan's main tributary, the Yarmuk, into irrigation canals. This probably will lower the level of the narrow Jordan below the baptismal site.

Religious leaders here have tried to remind world opinion that this scheme, important as it is economically, may destroy one of Christendom's most sacred sites by leaving the place of Christ's baptism a dry spot on the bank.

26,000 Navy Draftees To Get Early Releases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy announced today it will grant early releases to some 26,000 men it drafted during late 1955 and March 1956.

Men drafted in November and December of 1955 will be released after serving 21 months of the regular two-year draft time. Although no formal announcement was made about the March 1956 draftees, a Navy source said these men may be released with less than 21 months service.

For the first time since World War II, the Navy was forced to take draftees during the months of November and December 1955 and March 1956. It did not use the draft after that.

The Navy said the releases are being made "to remain within budgetary and personnel ceilings and take advantage of optimum return in recruiting four year enlistees of high caliber."

Miss Fabray To Star In Baseball Play

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP) — Since there's no rule against a girl playing in major league baseball, Nanette Fabray will pitch the season off to a good start this week—though strictly on television, you understand.

The occasion is next Tuesday (April 23) when Miss Fabray stars in a semimusical comedy entitled "A Man's Game" on Aluminum Hour (NBC-TV) at 9:30 p.m. (Eastern Standard).

Watching her in a rehearsal as she gives the old Joe E. Brown windup, you would easily vote her the comedienne most likely to succeed in television major league baseball this season.

"Leo Durocher has been coaching me," she said, "and I've been practicing until my arm is sore." She dances as well as pitches in "A Man's Game," which concerns the sister of a boy who is scouted by the big leaguers as a catcher. When the sister pitches to him, the scouts decide they've found a great pitcher rather than the catcher they were hunting. Miss Fabray, you remember, recently won an Emmy award for outstanding comedienne of the year based on her role as Sid Caesar's television wife.

The Nation Survived

Postmaster General Summerfield has been raked over the coals so harshly in Washington for locking horns with Congress over the proper size and timing of the emergency appropriation he wants that it would be a waste of time to duplicate the chastisement in the hinterlands.

The result of his demonstration that he was capable of ordering postal service cutbacks if Congress thwarted him, as far as the hinterlands can see after a weekend of experience, is indeterminate.

The nation survived. It seems likely to survive throughout the continued cutback of postal service this week.

The demonstration that survival is possible may have the unexpected effect of making taxpayers wonder if permanent cutbacks in postal service might not be feasible.

The Post Office Department, itself, is trying to bring into the open for settlement whether or not a clear separation of costs that Congress must bear for postal service and the costs the department should recover from users might reveal that Congress does not really want to pay the freight for all the duties it has foisted on the postal service.

The weekend experience might be compared to what sometimes happens when a miffed performer leaves the show to prove it cannot go on without him.

The audience does not always demand its money back. The money at stake in this instance is 41 million dollars, which is what the postmaster general says would be needed to restore service at the former rate until June 30.

In The Saddle

The Senate Finance Committee's decision to investigate the nation's financial condition reflects the state of mind of Sen. Byrd of Virginia. He is the committee chairman.

Since a good deal has been made known about Sen. Byrd's opinions on the country's finances, the probable nature of the investigation is clear.

It will be an inquiry by financial conservatives into a condition that has been favorable to a government dominated by financial progressives.

More than that, it will be an inquiry guided by an influential member of Congress into practices and principles which have had the effect of reducing congressional control over financial matters.

The over-all significance by any congressional challenge to the executive budget is the reassertion of congressional responsibility.

Congress has lost control of the government's spending rate, because it has lost control of budget-making. What the House Appropriations Committee has been doing, in effect, is to assert its money-appropriating power against the tendency of the executive budget-makers to ask for ever-greater appropriations on a touch-me-not basis.

The Senate Finance Committee, which holds appropriating power in the upper house of Congress, is taking a step to reassert its right to challenge the executive department, too.

Its investigation could become one of the most important developments in the 85th Congress. Congress is trying to get back in the saddle after clinging to the stirrup.

We Can Bear It

Mostly when someone says the government should save our money, we must take their word for it that the saving would be disastrous.

A saving in the Voice of America, we are told, would defeat the United States in the cold war. A few less multi-million-dollar dinguses would make the United States helpless in a hot war. A shrinkage of a few percentage points in the appropriation for fighting the fruit fly would destroy the entire crop of Queen Anne cherries for the next seven years. It scares the socks off a taxpayer to consider the damage the bureaucrats say would follow if they took him off the hook for a few dollars.

That is why we think the Post Office Department outwitted itself by demonstrating what would happen if it did not get 41 million dollars to maintain full service until June 30.

As far as we can learn, the service cutback ordered by the postmaster general as a terrifying demonstration of what would happen if Congress did not appropriate more money was a flop.

Nobody cared except the people who otherwise would have pocketed the money. We think it pretty well sums up what would happen in most cutbacks.

It's funny how people borrow trouble only to give it to others.

Even the young folks can be called the smart set, when they just "set" and act smart.

A Nebraska school teacher forbade her scholars to chew gum during class hours—and their bubble busted.

Some day a groom is going to show up at his wedding in dungarees just so that somebody will notice him.

The Norman Case

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Pearson Government Evades Pertinent Questions

Many Canadians are having second thoughts about the case of E. Herbert Norman, Canadian minister to Cairo who committed suicide recently.

At first the charges that Norman had Communist connections were vehemently denounced as "slander" and it was announced at Ottawa that the Canadian government had "cleared" Norman in 1951.

Indeed, a note of protest was sent to the United States government a few days ago deprecating the hearings of the Senate subcommittee on internal security which had revealed some "derogatory information" about Norman.

Now it turns out that there is a great deal of doubt as to what was really covered by the Canadian government's denial as uttered by Lester Pearson, secretary of state for external affairs, and the mystery is as big as ever.

Last Friday certain questions were put to Mr. Pearson in the House of Commons at Ottawa but for some unexplained reason what was said there was not transmitted very fully by the press services or else it was ignored on Saturday by those eastern newspapers hereabouts which have been denouncing the State Department and the Senate subcommittee.

IT DEVELOPS that despite the early dispatches saying the Canadian government had found the charges against Norman to be baseless, and despite the later revelation by Mr. Pearson that Norman had had "certain Communist associations," the Canadian secretary of state refused to answer last Friday a direct question on this point by John Diefenbaker, the leader of the "Progressive-Conservative" opposition. Here was the question:

"Will the minister say that the allegations before the subcommittee of the United States Senate on March 12 and 21 specifically were untrue, unjustified and had no basis in fact?"

Mr. Pearson in his speech dealt only with Norman's associations with Communists in his student days at Columbia. But he added that as a result of a security checkup on Norman and a personal examination of the reports the government was left in 1951 with no doubt as to the loyalty of Norman and his suitability for important posts.

Notwithstanding this, Mr. Diefenbaker challenged Mr. Pearson to answer the question he had propounded and repeated it demanding to know if the Senate subcommittee's charges were "untrue, unjustified and had no basis in fact."

Mr. Pearson, however, said he would stand upon it. Mr. Diefenbaker retorted that "the answer is an equivocal one" and went on to say that Mr. Pearson had not denied the charges of the Senate subcommittee.

WHAT WERE those charges? In a report from a secret agent of an important government security service — it is not specified whether American or Canadian — the FBI learned in February 1940 that Norman was a member of the Communist party of Canada.

Also in February 1942 Norman approached the FBI in Boston on behalf of his close friend Tsuru Shigeto, Japanese instructor at Harvard, who had been interned. Norman wanted to get custody of some of Shigeto's papers and told the FBI he was on official and highly confidential business for the Canadian government.

Not long afterwards, Norman changed his story and told the FBI it was only a personal interest on his part and that he was not representing the Canadian government.

Tsuru Shigeto admitted recently in testimony before the Senate subcommittee that he had Communist associations but said he was not a member of the Communist party.

His papers, however, convinced the authorities here that he was strongly sympathetic at the time to the Communist cause.

He now says that he is ashamed of those Communist associations.

Norman, in 1946, was in the counterintelligence corps at MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo representing the Canadian government. The FBI was informed that he was recalled from Japan on the advice of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police who discovered certain Communist connections on the part of Norman.

He was linked with Israel Halperin, a Canadian of Russian parentage who was one of the principals implicated in the exposed Soviet military intelligence operations in Canada as disclosed through the defection of Igor Gouzenko.

These were other factors in the background and Counsel Robert Morris read to the Senate subcommittee on March 12 last a paraphrase of one of the reports of a U.S. security agency dealing with those aspects.

MR. MORRIS then added to the record this very significant remark:

"This is all in connection with an inquiry that there was an effort being made to have Norman given the assignment of being a liaison between Canada and the United States intelligence."

This raised some interesting questions for the Senate subcommittee:

1. Who inside the American government was sponsoring such a setup in 1950 just after the Korean War began?

2. What blocked it and what part did a letter from the FBI to the U.S. Army Intelligence play in preventing Norman from getting into such a key post in the United States?

3. Isn't it the duty of a congressional committee to investigate administrative weaknesses which occur inside our government here and with which suspected persons from abroad make contact?

4. Wasn't Klaus Fuchs "cleared" by the British government before he went to work in the secret atomic laboratory in New Mexico?

5. Wasn't Burgess of the MacLean-Burgess scandal — who is now in Moscow advising the Soviets — "cleared" by the British government when he became secretary of the British-Canadian-American committee on atomic problems and thereby was given night and day access to the building of the Atomic Energy Commission in Washington?

6. Since Norman was identified as a Communist by information furnished directly to the Senate committee by important witnesses did he cease to be a Communist and in what year?

7. In his recent mission to Cairo what were Norman's contacts with American officials in the Middle East and what did they know of his background?

THE PROCEEDINGS of the Senate Internal Security Committee on March 21, 1957, show a significant passage in which Counsel Robert Morris, addressing Sen. Watkins, said:

"Senator, in that connection, we asked the State Department if the communication from the Canadian government ever was to the effect that they discovered that Norman had been a Communist and that he is no longer one. The department has informed us that that has never been the effect of any advice given them by the Canadian government."

So the main question to which the Senate subcommittee still has not found the answer is this: How long was Norman a Communist and what was the nature of his contacts with American officials in the Far East and in the Middle East?

Solon Low, national leader of the Socialist Credit party in the Canadian Parliament is quoted as saying that the Pearson government, knowing of Norman's Communist associations, should never have sent him to Cairo last November and was responsible for the tragedy.

MR. DIEFENBAKER said he too couldn't understand the reasoning of the Pearson government in giving delicate posts to a man with a background of Communist associations.

Norman presided over the all-important desk on Far Eastern affairs in the Canadian government at Ottawa during the critical months of the Korean War and was later acting head of the Canadian delegation to the United Nations in New York.

Since other members of the British commonwealth openly sided with England and France in the attack on Suez, the Canadian minister to Cairo became a key figure in Egypt.

Prominent members of the Canadian parliament now are saying if Norman hadn't been sent to a post in Cairo — where he was naturally in possession of vital information concerning the diplomatic moves of the Western power — the whole episode would never have arisen.

GOP Pushes Southward

By CHARLES BARTLETT

The Republican National Committee is planning to establish in May a committee of five southern party leaders to take command of the development of the party in the South.

Members of the executive committee of the national committee are reliably reported to have approved a resolution calling for the establishment of such a committee at the regional Republican conference which is to be held in Louisville in early May.

The five-man committee, which has not been selected yet, will be responsible for developing the southern leadership and enthusiasm; necessary to make good the boast of National Chairman Meade Alcorn Jr. that the Republicans will not leave a single district uncontested in 1958.

John Minor Wisdom, New Orleans attorney recently appointed circuit court judge, held the unofficial title of southern leader of the party after Eisenhower's election in 1952 and was responsible for placing on the committee a young man from New Orleans, James F. McMillips, who conducted much of the dispensation of southern patronage until he left the committee last year.

Having wrested the seat of Louisiana from conservative John Jackson in a dramatic delegation seating contest at the 1952 convention, Mr. Wisdom brought a fighting and relentless spirit to the project of modernizing the party in the South and gave solid backing to the efforts to oust the old guard leaders wherever they were found.

Republican leaders are not however concerned that Mr. Wisdom's retirement from the political scene will prove a detriment to the cause of Republicanism in the South because they believe that there are other able young leaders to take the reins.

It is suggested that while Mr. Wisdom's strong methods may have been excellent for the transition period, it may be desirable now to bring in new faces.

One certain to emerge to the forefront is Jack Porter of Texas, who has frequently challenged Mr.

Wisdom's assertion of southern leadership and may be expected now to make every effort to assume his unofficial position.

The Republicans are also looking hopefully for leadership from William Shartzer of Atlanta, the Georgia state chairman, and G. Harold Alexander of Fort Myers, Florida state chairman.

The southern committee to be established at the Louisville meeting is going to be named with a view both toward emphasizing the control of the Eisenhower Republicans in the South and with bridging the gap maintained by some of the old guard who have been able, like State Chairman Guy Smith of Tennessee, to retain their positions.

Major Airlines Lose Subsidy

By DAVID BARNETT

America's airlines have grown up.

For the first time in history, the 12 major domestic carriers will operate, starting next July, without subsidies from Uncle Sam.

Just five years ago, the government was helping out the domestic trunk lines with 18.8 million dollars a year.

And, for the first time in history, all subsidies for the major international line, Pan American World Airways, will be dropped, under the appropriations bill now going through Congress.

Pan Am, because of what it consistently said was the security requirement of flying non-profitable lines, has received an average of more than 15 million dollars annually in subsidies during the last 10 years.

Six years ago the civil aeronautics board, the federal agency that shells out the money for airline subsidies, paid out almost $4 million dollars to the lines.

Some of the taxpayers' money still will have to go to help maintain the youngsters in the industry — local service carriers, helicopter lines, Alaskan and South American operators.

The House of Representatives has voted some 48.8 million dollars for this purpose during the next fiscal year.

Most of the larger domestic airlines have been off subsidies for many years. The last two of the trunk lines could toss away the federal crutch because of two major decisions of the administration.

Northeast Airlines was on subsidy as long as its routes were restricted to its New England territory. Then the CAB permitted the line to extend its operations to the profitable New York - to - Miami route. That put Northeast on the way to a profit and off subsidies.

Colonial Airlines, the other domestic line on subsidies, was taken off the list last July by permitting a merger of Colonial with Eastern Airlines, one of the most profitable of the domestic lines.

Pan American also obtained a new route to help it get off subsidies. The line was permitted to set up a New York - to - Nassau flight. Its transatlantic and trans-pacific routes have been showing an upsurge of passengers and profits.

All the airlines will continue to get federal payment for carrying the mail.

Purely Personal

If I were secretary of state, I would tell the Egyptians and the Israelis that if they were not careful my government would get tired of being given a bad time by both of them and decide to let them fight it out, which would cool off both sides in a hurry.

This is the time of year when industry makes it known it is sending out talent scouts to college campuses. What it never talks about is the frequency with which talent is being discovered among once-despised teachers, now being recruited for industrial jobs at big pay.

It is my impression that the way to keep the New York Yankees from running away from the rest of the American League is to let the Yankees play themselves. Their bench is stronger than most other teams.

I have not been able to get it through my head why people who have no objection to the useless death of unclaimed dogs in public custody work up a full head of steam over the use of a few of these unwanted animals for medical experimentation.

It strikes me as typical of the hit - and - miss procedure in such matters that no one now is keeping an eye on the Teamsters Union officials who have stepped out of the spotlight. Now is the time when they will go into action to save their bacon — not while the spotlight is turned on them.

There must be a reason why disconsolate robins prefer to hop about in the streets during April blizzards. It would seem more sensible to spend the time in a nice tree, out of harm's way.

A frantic campaign is being

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Ike, Helicopters And Golf

It's hard to understand why President Eisenhower should be so touchy in the matter of going to a golf course by helicopter, or why there should be any opposition. There is no daredevil element in traveling by helicopter. . . . Whatever sensitivity expressed seems to be directed at the expense of using one to get to and from a golf course, and if we were like we would slap on a big "I Like Golf Via Helicopters" button on our lapel and forget the critics.

Few things are of greater importance to America and the free world today than Ike's health and most folks would rather see him taking helicopters and golf rather than pills and elixirs.

FEW MEN ON EARTH are carrying more killing burdens and if frequent interludes on the fairways, reached the easiest way, give him relaxation this corner cries, "Let him have 'em, and no carping!"

Tens of thousands of men with fewer burdens than Ike take to the golf course every day for relaxation, nobody dissenting and nobody yelling, "This is awful. He should stick to the job and wear himself to a frazzle."

To Ike golf is a strain-removing recreation. Every step he takes on a golf course (unless the rough is too deep) is probably important to the nation.

One or two ten-foot putts (on a slanting green) give Ike such a lift that to America they can be worth the cost of a half dozen helicopters.

The ancient Scotch game takes a man's mind off his harassments as few things do. Near East worries disappear on a near golf links. The Suez headache can be helped swiftly by concentration on a driving tee.

EVEN THE BUDGET problem can seem trifling when a golfer goes into his backswing. Dwight D. Eisenhower can make a better president getting in his golf as he needs it and traveling to and from with minimum delays, say we.

We would rather see him going by "copter" than by auto in modern highway traffic. Since the recent speeding episode, Ike has explained that he is often busy on important papers in the back seat and doesn't realize how fast the car is going. (Okay here. All we ask, if he goes to Gettysburg by car, is that he sit up front when preparing any safe-driving proclamation.)

JIMMY MacARTHUR, 19 - year - old son of Helen Hayes, is wonderful in his movie debut in "The Young Stranger" and Helen is about the happiest mommer around. . . . The kid has rare talent.

Dr. John Bodkin Adams, British doctor, found not guilty of speeding wealthy widows to the cemetery, is writing his life story and we assume the publisher hopes it will make a "killing."

By means of a new and powerful radio telescope the government hopes to get messages from outer space. . . . The first thing it will hear will be "What's going on down there?"

In "Red Light Ballet" in the musical "New Girl in Town," New York will find one of the bawdiest interludes ever seen on the stage. . . . It could mean a call for the cops.

Idlewild Airport is to be made completely under cover so that a traveler will never be outdoors from the taxi to the plane. . . . This means he will be able to get his confusion under glass and never get wet en route to his dispute with an airport clerk over his reservation.

American Ships May Use Suez

Would Do So Under Protest, However

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is now about ready to allow American ships to pass through the Suez Canal under Egyptian terms—provided they do so under protest against Egypt's operating arrangements.

Top officials who disclosed this today predicted such a go-ahead to pay tolls direct to the Egyptian Suez Canal Authority.

The government move would void earlier State Department "advice" that American ships keep away from the canal until physical and negotiating hazards involved in reopening the waterway had been overcome.

Some American commercial ships are reported already approaching the canal, anticipating that the government will lift the ban within a few days even though Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser has refused to meet Western terms for operating the waterway.

The new American government attitude, officials said, would be made known about the time the Eisenhower administration officially informs the United Nations its confidential talks with Egypt have failed to yield a satisfactory settlement.

Such a report is expected to be made to the Security Council sometime this week. It will make clear the United States hope that further talks with Egypt will be held on the nine-month dispute which touched off fighting last October.

Portrait Bridal Gowns In White

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

No girl ever wound up looking a misfit picture of perfection on her wedding day by sheer accident.

It takes planning to be able to move down the aisle looking lovely. The wedding guests see only the final result. They're not concerned with the careful choice of dress and veil and flowers.

It stands to reason that a bride is going to put the largest sum of money she spends on a wedding into the dress itself. In many ways, it's the most important dress she'll ever wear.

In it, she creates the effect that people will remember for years after. In it, she will be photographed. Whether she passes the dress on to her daughter in later years is not as important as the fact that she should enjoy and feel beautiful in it.

We show here two dresses by Alfred Angelo that meet the requirements in every respect. Both of them are true portrait dresses, designed to make a girl shine at her own wedding.

Gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle (left) has beautiful simplicity of line and a scalloped five-tier train. Neckline is outlined in lace and iridescent sequins.

The dress is lined with interlon to keep its lovely lines. Sequins are repeated on the applied lace tiers.

Tulle and lace gown (right) has wide neckline with frame of soft pleating. Overskirt is scalloped over full layers of pleated tulle.

Mayors May Relax Ban On Bingo In County

A relaxing of the Columbiana County Mayors Association's ban against bingo may result from a meeting held by the mayors last night at Lisbon.

Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp, Prosecutor G. William Brokaw and Assistant Prosecutor J.

Warren Bettis met with the mayors of county communities, along with police chiefs of the various cities and towns.

The mayors issued a ban against bingo in their home towns last week after Governor C. William O'Neill said that the game was illegal.

In last night's discussion between the mayors and the legal advisors, it was brought out that state law provides no penalty for operating a bingo game except that the place of operation can be declared a common nuisance and the building padlocked for one year.

Prosecutor Brokaw read the laws and the amended law of 1943 with the four words added "for his own profit" and told how people have gotten the idea that if they are played for charity they are legal. He said that "bingo is and always has been illegal but that if all profit is used for charity you could not make an arrest but you could close them up as a nuisance." He said all arrests made on bingo have been upheld by the Ohio Supreme Court.

Brokaw declared that he feels that bingo is for local authorities to handle, but if they do nothing and he gets a legitimate complaint and the person making the complaint will sign the affidavit he would step in.

When Sheriff Russell VanFossan was questioned about bingo operations in the county (outside the municipalities) he said "I'll cross that bridge when I come to it."

Mayor Dean Cranmer of Salem said he had received only six complaints against bingo. The game has been played at two places in the city, St. Paul school and the American Legion Home.

Police Chief George T. Earley of Salem, questioned for an opinion by Mayor Wilbur Warren of Lisbon, head of the mayor's association, declared he thought "if there were no penalty, the police would be suckers to arrest for it."

That is a good question.

The 1943 Legislature inserted the phrase "for his own profit" in an effort to legalize gambling to raise funds for charity.

There never has been a direct test of that phrase in the Ohio Supreme Court, but the court seized the chance on a closely related case in 1953 to go on record with this observation:

"The Ohio General Assembly has no authority to legalize, either directly or indirectly, lotteries in any form."

The court was striking directly at the legal theory that the Legislature, by removing from state law any penalty for conducting charitable gambling, had legalized it indirectly. The court added: "Prescribing a specific penalty for the operation of a gambling transaction for one's own profit does not by indirect legalization the same transaction if carried on not for profit."

Rules City Has Right

In that same decision the high court ruled in the case before it that a city has a perfect right to adopt an ordinance making it a misdemeanor to possess any "ticket, . . . in a lottery." The Columbus ordinance involved in the decision makes no exceptions for charity gambling.

The court held the anti-bingo ordinance is not in conflict with the state law which fails to set a penalty for the operation of a game which gives its profits to charity.

Just where does all that leave us? The Ohio Supreme Court holds that all gambling is illegal, that in the face of the constitution, the Legislature does not have the right to legalize it for charity or any other purpose.

There have been several proposals in recent years for constitutional amendments to lift the gambling prohibition enough to permit charity bingo. But the Legislature never has acted to put any of them on the ballot.

How About Enforcement?

Now, what about enforcement? Cities and villages with anti-bingo ordinances have no particular problem. It is their court-approved right to legislate against gambling in any form and it is their duty to enforce their local laws.

But in rural areas, there is no law except the state law. Counties are not permitted to pass their own laws. When a sheriff tries to stop a for-charity bingo game in his bailiwick, there is no charge he can bring against the operators. The game may be illegal, but there is no penalty.

Police chiefs in municipalities which lack anti-bingo ordinances find themselves in the same boat with sheriffs and their deputies. The state, itself, is practically powerless. Gov. O'Neill points out: "There is no police authority in Ohio between the sheriffs and chiefs of police and the national guard."

Obviously, O'Neill is not going to call out the national guard to break up a charitable bingo game. Similarly, Atty. Gen. Saxbe has no police powers.

There is a state law which permits the attorney general to go to court and seek a padlock order against gambling establishments as "common nuisances," but Saxbe makes no bones about it: "I'm not about to try to padlock a church."

ministers, senators and some deputies to the palace. They emerged after three hours with a seven-man government headed by Hussein Fakhri Khaldi, 61-year-old former foreign minister who has shown sympathies toward the West.

Sworn in with him were five other moderates. The seventh Cabinet member is Suleiman Nabulsi, head of the big National Socialist party and premier of the anti-Western government Hussein threw out last week.

Nabulsi's inclusion as foreign minister and communications minister indicated the King still had to depend to some extent on support from the former Premier's party, which controls 13 of the 40 seats in the Chamber of Deputies.

Officials said privately the "shotgun" cabinet should last long enough to clean out leftists permeating the government administration and schools. The purge already was begun.

It was not certain whether it would bring out street mobs that could cause another crisis. It was believed the next 24 hours might be decisive. Most observers felt, however, that any leftist demonstrations would be put down quickly.

Postal

(D-Mass) said Summerfield had showed "a contemptuous attitude toward Congress" and that the administration was to blame for the postal situation.

However, Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) charged that Cannon had caused the cutback in service, asserting that the Appropriations Committee should have acted more promptly.

Besides the postal funds, the deficiency bill carries 200 million dollars for rural electrification loans, 250 millions in grants to the states for highways, 6½ millions for fighting fires in drought areas of the West, and 24½ millions in additional expense allowances for the Social Security Administration.

Indicative of a return to normalcy, censorship on outgoing news dispatches was lifted Monday night.

10 Plead Not Guilty, Three Seek Probation At Hearings

LISBON — Three pleaded guilty and asked for probation and ten pleaded not guilty at arraignment Monday in common pleas court.

Basil Mangano, an East Liverpool auto dealer, charged with two counts of retail sales violation, was arraigned before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard and made a motion through his counsel to have the two indictments quashed because the word "wilful" was omitted in indictments. Judge Buzzard re-set the hearing for Thursday.

Pleading guilty were: Joseph Lee Myers Jr., 20, of Youngstown, and Fred Shimer, 19, Mineral Ridge RD 1, charged with armed robbery of the Travelers Hotel in East Liverpool. Bond for each was set at $2,500.

Ronald K. Heaton of Wellsville, charged with assault on rape; bond set at $1,000.

Lloyd Gearin, 54, Salineville, assault and battery; bond set at $500.

Attley Smith Jr., 30, Salem, charged with driving while intoxicated; bond set at $500.

Richard Hebron, 29, of Glenmore, charged with non-support and abandonment; bond fixed at $1,000.

Robert Beighey, 19, of East Liverpool, auto theft; bond set at $1,000.

Harry Stuhldreher, 29, of Mineral Ridge, auto theft; bond set at $1,000.

Kenneth D. Ritchie, 31, of West Liberty, W. Va., two counts of fraudulent checks; bond set at $1,000.

Pleading guilty and asking for probation were Richard McClish, 19, of Salem, jointly charged with James William Greier of burglary of Brookwood Rink north of Salem. Greier's plea was continued. Greier also is charged with attempted safe-cracking.

Albert Huff, 22, of Columbiana RD 2, forgery; bond $1,000.

John S. Moulton, 39, East Liverpool, forgery, $1,000 bond.

Sentencing was deferred by Judge Buzzard pending a report from Probation Officer Richard Rose.

There are some places where Christians dare not go and some things they dare not do, lest their light be extinguished. A Christian is a walking billboard; he advertises Christ by the way he lives. There is nothing in all the world that is more powerful or as much admired as a good life," according to Dr. Bader.

In witnessing by words we speak, Dr. Bader said, "A Christian should have a new vocabulary. His words are kind and his speech is free from vulgar words. A person's speech betrays him."

"One reason why the churches of America are growing so rapidly these days is because so many laymen and women are going out two by two, to talk to their neighbors and friends concerning the meaning of Christ and their church to them," the speaker emphasized.

Saying that "we can give without loving but no one can really love without giving," Dr. Bader noted that "God loved His world so much that He gave His only begotten Son for its redemption. There is a new generosity in all church across America today; this is an effective witness to what they believe."

Dr. Bader concluded, "A person is known by the way he spends his money. He can spend it selfishly or unselfishly. He can spend it all on himself or he can divide with God."

"Our Timeless Mandate" will be the subject of Dr. Bader's talk tonight at 7:30 in the First Christian Church to which the community is invited.

At yesterday's session, Columbiana County Commissioner Glenn Greenisen, said he felt Columbiana was not required to participate in giving money toward replacements of fixtures, equipment or buildings, basing his contention on former Attorney General Tom Herbert's opinion (rendered in 1941) and listed in section 3119, of the Ohio General Code. He said Columbiana had only to assist in purchase of new equipment or facilities, according to the written opinion.

Prosecutor Hess refuted Greenisen's contention that the attorney general's opinion was valid, over and above that of the state examiner.

"The attorney general's opinion was just that, only an opinion, and was based on particulars such as the water softener, boilers and pumps," then a problem at the Home, Hess said.

He added that "The State examiner is the law for Stark," and that Stark must do its best to follow the lines of the examiner's requisites.

Oliver Kuhn, Stark County commissioner, said that according to Greenisen's interpretation of the attorney general's opinion then "Stark would have to put the buildings back into shape at our expense" and Columbiana would share the enhanced value of the Home.

Greenisen said that if over the past 15 years $3,000 to $5,000 has been spent a year on maintenance of the Home it would not be in the condition it is in now. Kuhn retorted that the buildings were painted inside and out and that with the funds available a "good job" was done in keeping up the home.

"But the major costs cannot be handled by Stark alone," he said. Glen C. Sponseller, Stark commissioner, noted that the fact that Columbiana had no interest in the Home because none of the county's children were housed in it was understood, but, he added, "The buildings are yours as much as ours" in value.

Declaring that Fairmount is not a children's home anymore because Stark hasn't the need for one, Kuhn noted that "we have the problem of maintaining all the buildings most of which we do not use. When the need isn't here, it affects the value of a plant."

"Our commissioners have tried to conceive of different uses for the building," Kuhn continued. "But to combine it into both a county home and children's home is impossible. The Stark welfare department tells us to put children in foster homes."

Stark now has 284 children in foster homes, with fewer than 100 living at Fairmount. Columbiana has 140 wards now residing in foster homes.

As for the $35,000 offered by Stark, Kuhn noted that in his talks with people familiar with the Home they said, "If Stark were to pay Columbiana a dime over $30,000 it would be paying too much."

Capital improvements necessary at the home were originally estimated at $60,000, but Kuhn says that he believes the overall costs would be "much higher." Columbiana County's share of the total expense, based on the real estate duplicate valuation of the two counties would be 15 per cent to Stark's 85.

Appraisal value of the home is $354,000, but some persons doubt if auctioned off that the property would bring $350,000.

Kuhn previously said that possibly sale of Fairmount would total $155,000, figuring on $1,000 per acre of the 155 acres. However, some Stark residents claim that $500 per acre would be the top price of the land.

Joseph Nist, Stark County commissioner, brought up the suggestion to auction the home, making the statement that "time is of the essence with the present set-up definitely unwieldy."

"We know our limitations and you know yours," Nist continued, and then urged that the home be placed up for sale.

Commissioners from Columbiana included W. A. Hunston, Greenisen and Richard Brian. Stark County commissioners present were Nist, Kuhn and Sponseller. Hess also was present.

Practical Substitute Hearts Are Foreseen

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

CHICAGO (AP)—A scientist foresees the day when you might have a little substitute glass-and-rubber heart placed permanently inside your chest.

It would replace your own sick heart which threatened death.

Or you might get a substitute kidney, sewed inside your abdomen, to rescue failing kidneys.

These substitute organs might have to be plugged into an electric socket to work. But they would keep you alive.

Research on such projects is beginning, and the general principles make them look feasible, says Dr. Peter F. Salisbury of Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, Los Angeles.

He took this look ahead in taking office Sunday night as president of the American Society for Artificial Internal Organs, a three-year-old society of some 100 scientists and doctors. It is a member society of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology, holding its 41st annual meeting in Chicago this week.

Dr. Salisbury said some prototypes of first rough working models of permanent substitute hearts and kidneys are being designed. He said he spoke of them in order to stimulate more research into these opportunities.

Hundreds of human lives have already been saved by artificial heart-lung and kidney machines. But they are pretty big, and the patient is connected to them only temporarily.

The bold new prospect is of small devices permanently put inside the human body.

Dr. Salisbury said one possible design for a substitute heart is a double pump, each unit a U-shaped tube made of silicon rubber.

One pump would take blood coming to the heart from the veins and pump it through the lungs for fresh oxygen. The other would collect blood coming from the lungs and pump it through the body.

The tubes could work on an hydraulic pressure principle borrowed from milking machines. The blood would be squeezed through tubes, wide at the opening, which grow progressively smaller.

The tubes would be inside a closed chamber made of glass or plastic. The pumping action would come from forcing a liquid into and out of this chamber, to press pulse-like on the tubes.

A tube would have to protrude through the chest wall to supply the pumping fluid. Electrical energy could pump it in and out. Or the patient could use a hand-pump while he walked from room to room.

Perhaps magnetic currents, from outside the chest, could be used to do the pumping with no protruding tube.

Dr. Salisbury said it would be easier to remove the ailing heart, completely replacing it with the substitute, than to try to find room inside the chest for an auxiliary pump.

BLASTS SUMMERFIELD

WASHINGTON (AP)—Postmaster General Summerfield, according to an Ohio dentist, "has done what neither the Indians, road agents, bandits nor the elements ever succeeded in doing... disrupted the United States mail."

And in order to, as he put it, send Summerfield back home "by the fastest available means," Dr. Edward D. Shumaker, Scio, Ohio, sent along $1. The check and a letter were mailed to Rep. Hays, D-Ohio. The dentist told Hays Summerfield should resign because of his order to curtail mail service.

O'Neill Says Federal Officials Will Determine Freeway Route

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill said today the new north-south freeway is part of the interstate system and federal officials will determine the exact route.

O'Neill made the observation during a conference with officials of cities in the Canton area who want the freeway run through their territory.

Mayor Carl F. Wise of Canton said that he and other officials of that area "are going to do everything we can to get the highway moved closer to Stark County."

He added that they realized the road would have to be built as an interstate highway.

O'Neill explained the federal government put up 90 per cent and the state 10 per cent of the cost of constructing the new route.

Veterans Guide

Q — I understand that four-year Korean GI night courses in law do not count for more than three-quarters time training, for purposes of computing monthly GI allowances. Does this three-quarters rule also apply to four-year night courses approved by the American Bar Association?

A — No. Four-year night courses approved by the American Bar Association are the exceptions to the rule. They may count as full-time training, in computing GI allowances.

Q — I have to sell my GI house for reasons of health. If I allow the buyer to take over my GI loan payments, would I still be eligible to have my GI loan restored?

A — In order for your loan rights to be restored, VA must be released from liability on its guaranty. This can be accomplished only if the GI loan is repaid in full. It cannot be accomplished if the buyer takes over your GI payments. The release of the veteran from liability does not change the fact that VA continues to be liable on the guaranty.

Q — I plan to add the total disability income provision to my World War II GI term insurance policy. Will the amount I have to pay be based on my current age?

A — Not necessarily. The amount will be based on the age that determines your regular term insurance premiums the last time you renewed your policy. This may not be your present age.

Q — I am a young man of 21, eligible for War Orphans schooling benefits. May I file my own application, or must my mother file for me?

A — Since you are of age, you may file yourself. In the case of young men or women under 21, applications must be filed by their living parent or guardian.

The governor said the exact route had not been determined.

"It will be where the engineers find it can best be built," O'Neill said. "It will be between U.S. 42 and Ohio 3. We are going to put this road under contract in July; we are through fooling around."

"Nobody appreciates what this highway means to Ohio. The impact on the economy and the attraction of business is tremendous."

"Except for the turnpike this kind of road does not now exist in this state."

"This will be the best highway in America. It will be a limited access road. You can only get on and off it at interchanges."

Mayor Wise and his delegation said a shorter and better route would swing the new freeway slightly north of Mount Vernon, Massillon and Canton. It then would swing up to Conneaut in the northeastern corner of Ohio, crossing the Ohio Turnpike west of Warren where the east-west toll road dips southeast past Youngstown. Finger-like roads would extend from Cleveland to the new north-south freeway under the delegation's proposal.

One road would go from Cleveland through Wooster to meet the freeway south of that city, another would extend between Cleveland and Massillon and a third between Cleveland, Akron and Canton.

Accompanying Mayor Wise to the conference in the State House were Mayors Edgar L. Lash of Massillon, and Harley Ewing of Alliance. A dozen others were in the party. Attending the session were State Sen. Ed Witmer (D-Stark) and Reps. John Lehmann (R-Stark), Guy Hiner (R-Stark), Jerry Hawk and Carl Bauer, all Stark County Republicans.

Baltimore Edges Washington 7-6 In Major League Opener

Contest Goes Eleven Innings

Crowd Of 23,871
Sees 3 1/4-Hour Game

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opening day 1957 smashed a Baltimore jinx and for 24 cherished hours, at least, put the Orioles in an unaccustomed perch atop the American League.

Under the eyes of President Eisenhower and 23,871 other spectators, the Orioles edged Washington, 7-6, in 11 innings Monday at Griffith Stadium. It was the first opening-day victory for the Orioles since the league accepted them as members in 1954.

And since all but Washington and Baltimore waited until today to swing into action, the triumph advanced the Orioles to the head of the class with a 1,000 percentage. With the favored New York Yankees and others about to get going, odds are steep they won't stay there long.

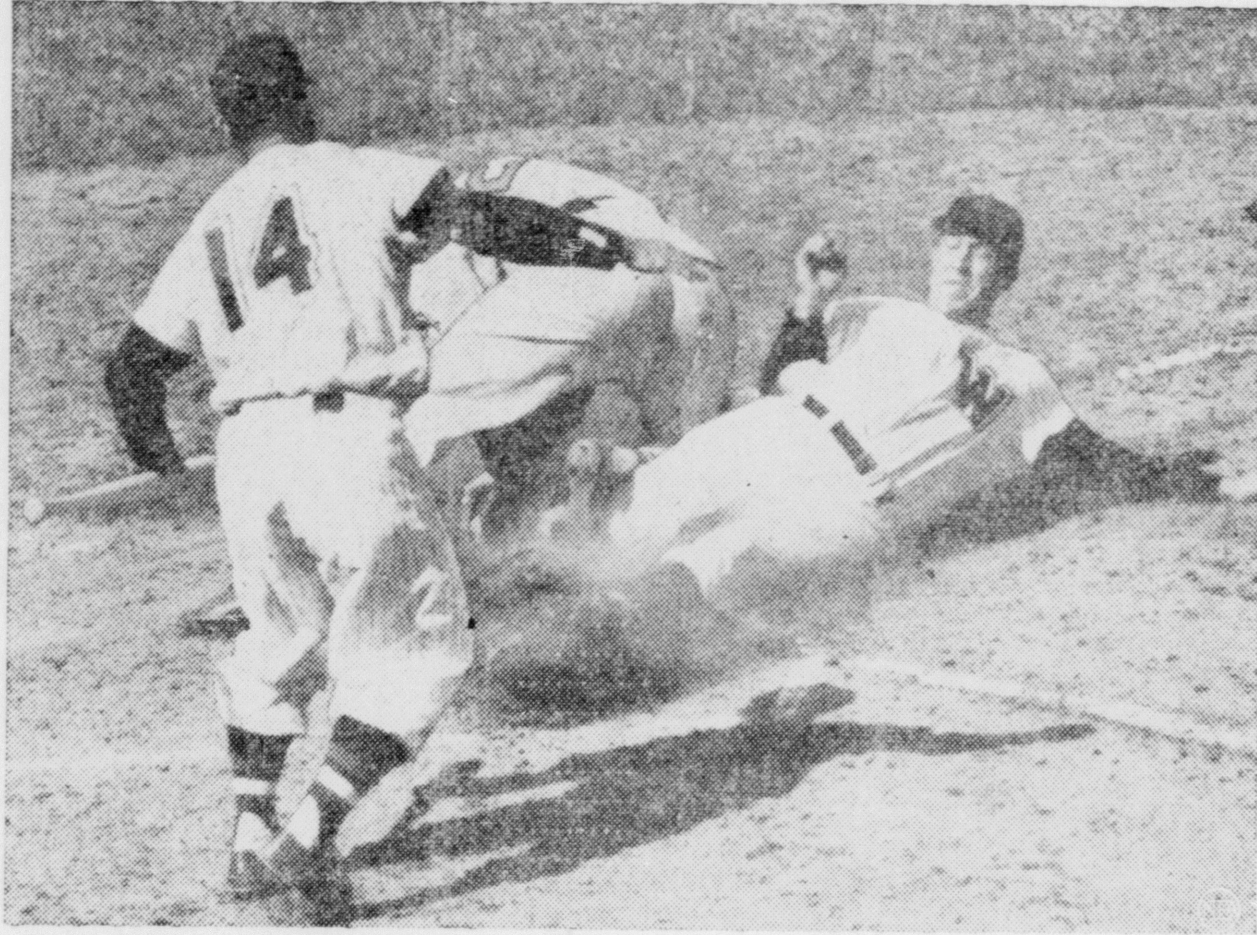

Carl Povich, a 29-year-old rookie up from San Antonio, drove in the winning run with a sacrifice fly, but Gus Triandos, the huge catcher, was the Orioles' real muscleman. Triandos slammed a two-run homer to give Baltimore a temporary 6-5 lead in the seventh. He also shot two across with a fifth-inning single and added a double for good measure in Baltimore's lucky 11th.

Billy Loes, who worked the two overtime innings, received credit for the victory. He was the fourth Baltimore hurler.

Camilo Pascual took the loss. He followed Bob Chakales, who stuck around through seven innings in which Baltimore cracked out 10 hits for runs and overcame a 5-2 disadvantage.

The outcome, by all appearances, didn't overjoy the President. Eisenhower performed the traditional ball-tossing ritual from his first base box to get the game under way and sat through the entire 3 hours and 17 minutes of play. But he has said folks should go out and root for the home team — and after Washington lost he commiserated with club president Calvin Griffith.

"I'm sorry I couldn't pull them in for you," Eisenhower said. It was easy to judge his sympathies. When Roy Sievers crashed a double off the right field wall to drive in one of Washington's five runs in the fourth, Eisenhower leaped to his feet and applauded. In contrast, when Triandos poked his homer the President stayed glued to his seat.

BASEBALL IS WITH US AGAIN — Outfielder Roy Sievers of the Washington Senators slides home safely on Jim Lemon's sacrifice fly in the fourth inning of the season's opener against the Baltimore Orioles in Washington, D. C. Oriole pitcher Skinny Brown is covering the plate after the throw got away from catcher Gus Triandos. Washington catcher Clint Courtney watches the play. Baltimore won, 7-6.

Redlegs Face St. Louis Today

Cincinnati Seized By Pennant Fever

By HAROLD HARRISON
CINCINNATI (AP) — There was a severe case of "pennant fever" in Cincinnati today.

That's an ailment that affects a lot of baseball fans in a lot of towns in April. Usually it quickly subsides once the season gets under way, but unless the Cincinnati Redlegs fall flat on their faces at start of the 1957 National League season, it looks as if the ailment might continue for quite a spell in this rabid baseball city. The reason, of course, that the "fever" may last longer than usual here is that the Reds have been picked by a lot of experts to win the pennant. The team, however, was a solid consensus choice of sports writers in The Associated Press poll to finish third.

They surprised everyone by winding up third last year, only two games out of first.

Opposing them in the opener today was St. Louis, generally called the most improved team in the league.

Detroit Entry Paces WIBC Doubles Event

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Virginia Crell and Evelyn Pryor, a Detroit entry, lead the doubles event in the Women's International Bowling Congress tournament today after firing a combined 1,173 Monday.

Marge Baginski and Helen Herbrich, Chicago, with 1,140, were dropped to second place.

Behind them are Clara Zapp and Shirley Schroder, Cincinnati, 1,138; third, Elaine Scheffler and Rita Logsdon, Springfield, Ill., 1,127; fourth, and Delores Rigby and Elsie Cruce, Detroit, 1,116 fifth. Standings in other divisions are: Singles: Audrey Condry, Wooster, Ohio, 595; first; Eleanor Jones, Three Rivers, Mich., 593; second; Miss Schroder, 579; third; Dorothy Hanaly, Minneapolis, 577; fourth; and Grace Gladman, Cleveland, 573, fifth.

Team championship division: Mamie's Grotto, Milwaukee, 2,585; first; Angie's Jordan Shirts, Erie, Pa., 2,578; second; Old Crown Beer, Fort Wayne, Ind., 2,575; third; John Karg, Cincinnati, 2,535; fourth; and Empress Room, Cleveland, 2,502, fifth.

Team division No. 2 (650-750 averages) Geneva Recreation, 2,322; first; Happy-Go-Lucky, Gary, Ind., 2,299; second; Harris Funeral Home, Rochester, N. Y., 2,282; third; Crawford-Harris, Ashtabula, Ohio, 2,237; fourth; and Stewart Sandwich Shop, Rossford, Ohio, 2,236, fifth.

Team division No. 3 (under 650 averages): Miracle Lanes, Fort Recovery, Ohio, 2,129; first; Less Wenning, Fort Recovery, 2,098; second; Coca Cola, Batavia, N.Y., 2,040; third; McCook's No. 151, Dayton, Ohio, 2,022; fourth; and Dayton Women's Bowling Assn.'s No. 5, 2,009, fifth.

Wiffi Smith Wins Dallas Women's Open

DALLAS (AP) — Red-haired Wiffi Smith, whose nonchalance is exceeded only by her links ability, was being hailed as the greatest sensation to hit women's golf in a decade.

The stocky power-swarmer from St. Clair, Mich., won the $7,500 Dallas Women's Open Monday. It was her first tournament victory, but then she has been on the tour only a little more than three months.

The never-ruffled 20-year-old has been in just 10 tournaments. She has won money in all — a total of $3,990.42 — with 11th place her lowest finish. She has the third best scoring average in women's golf—74.84.

Monday she smiled at the gathering pressure as she swept through the third round with a 1-under-par 70, then fought a straying putter for a 75 in the last 18 holes to beat off a great challenge by veteran Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill.

She started the day two strokes back of the brilliant Marlene Bauer Hagge of Dallas, who had just set a Glen Lakes Country Club competitive course record with a 4-under-par 67. She caught Mrs. Hagge at 54 holes, then moved ahead as the little blonde with the velvet putting touch blew to a 79 because of a hooking tee shot.

Wiffi wound up with 285 for 72 holes. Patty had 73 for a 72-hole total of 288. Mrs. Hagge ended in third with 289.

Akron Man Wins Bowling Tourney

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Defending champion Dick Hoover of Akron, Ohio edged Chicago's Adolph Carlson by four pins Monday night to remain unbeaten in the 1957 American Bowling Congress Masters Tournament.

Hoover, who won the all-star tournament in 1950 at the age of 21, got off to a slow start with 159, but came flashing back with lines of 212, 256 and 205 for an 832 total. Carlson, 59, a member of bowling's hall of fame, tossed a creditable 828.

Carlson thus was placed in losers bracket where he will roll against contestants in the same category. If he loses one more match, he will be ousted.

Hoover drew Jack Aydelotte of Minneapolis as his opponent in the unbeaten ranks of the winners bracket today. Other matches in the winners bracket include Lou Sielaff, Detroit, vs. J.B. Solomon, Dallas; Al Savas, Milwaukee, vs. Bill Lillard, Chicago, and Charles Johnson, Detroit, vs. Joe Kristof, Chicago.

The Masters is a special event, not a part of the regular ABC tourney.

FIRST HOLE IN ONE
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Golf pro Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, Monday made the first hole-in-one ever recorded in practice for the Tournament of Champions which starts Thursday. His 5-iron shot on the 178-yard fourth hole hit 18 inches from the cup and rolled in. No one has ever made a hole-in-one in the tournament. Finsterwald fired a 33-34 —67 round for the day.

Score Ready For Chicago

30,000 Expected
To Watch Contest

CLEVELAND (AP) — Herb Score, the million dollar baby of the Cleveland Indians, was ready to get on the mound in Municipal Stadium here today as the Tribe opposed the Chicago White Sox in the season opener.

The Indians, sporting a new left fielder named Roger Maris and a new manager named Kerby Farrell, are hoping they can do what they haven't done since 1954 — catch the New York Yankees.

A perennial runner up to the Yankees, the Indians hope Kerby Farrell's hurry-up game on the base paths and accent on hustle will give them the extra zip needed to make it to the top of the league and stay there.

Across the diamond from Farrell in the Chicago White Sox dug-out today was Al Lopez, who managed the Indians to their 1954 pennant, and who hopes to do the same thing for the White Sox this season.

The weatherman promised temperatures in the middle 50s for the crowd of 30,000, with scattered showers throughout the afternoon.

The lineup announced by Farrell was: Al Smith, cf; Bob Avila, 3b; Vic Wertz, 1b; Rocky Colavito, rf; Roger Maris, lf; Chico Carrasquel, ss; Jim Hegan, c; George Strickland, 2b; and Score, p.

All 16 Major League Teams Scheduled To Play Today

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The sparring over, the champion New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers settled down to the serious business of defending their laurels as the 1956 major league baseball season opened on all fronts today.

Weather permitting, all 16 teams, including Baltimore and Washington, which staged a sneak preview Monday in a traditional opener in the nation's capital, were to see action. One game will be played at night, between the Dodgers and Phillies in Philadelphia.

The Orioles, who hadn't won an opener since they re-entered the American League in 1954, defeated the Senators 7-6 in 11 innings.

The Orioles, flushed with their success, brought their one-game winning streak to Baltimore today hoping to extend it against the Boston Red Sox before an expected crowd of 35,000. Lethander Bill Wight (9-12) was manager Paul Richards' nomination to hurl against Tom Brewer (19-9).

The Senators, making their second try for their first victory, were guests of the Yankees at Yankee Stadium where southpaw Chuck Stobbs (15-15) had the unenviable task of trying to stop Mickey Mantle and company. It was Stobbs who was the victim of Mantle's record 565-foot homer in Washington four years ago. Mickey, incidentally, was to receive the Most Valuable Player award at a special pre-game ceremony. Whitey Ford (19-6), the league's leading hurler in 1956, was to pitch for New York.

A pair of 20-game winners, Billy Pierce of Chicago and Herb Score of Cleveland, were slated to hook up in what may prove the best pitching duel of the day as the Indians played host to the White Sox before an expected 35,000.

In another American League opener, at Kansas City, Detroit was sending its ace, Frank Lary (21-13), against Tom Morgan (6-7). The A's were handicapped by the absence of two of their top performers, Harry Simpson and Vic Power. Simpson has a pulled tendon and Power a head injury.

The National League spotlight will be focused on Philadelphia where two of the game's outstanding pitchers, Brooklyn's Don Newcombe (27-7) and Robin Roberts (19-18) were to hook up in another of their many duels before 25,000. The Dodgers will be minus the services of shortstop Pee Wee Reese, who suffered a back injury in Sunday's exhibition game. His place will be taken by Don Zimmer.

Milwaukee, favored to dethrone the Dodgers, were to open with the Cubs in Chicago and lead off with its ace, Warren Spahn (20-11). The 36-year-old veteran southpaw was opposed by Bob Rush (13-10). A crowd of 35,000 was expected.

A capacity crowd of 33,000 was prepared to greet Birdie Tebbetts and his homer-happy Cincinnati Redlegs as they took on the St. Louis Cardinals. Johnny Klippstein (12-11) was slated to take the mound against an old Redleg, Herman Wehmeier (12-11).

The Pirates, champions of the grapefruit league for the second straight spring, faced a tartar in Johnny Antonelli as they opposed the New York Giants in Pittsburgh before 36,000. Antonelli (20-13) owns a streak of eight straight triumphs over the Bucs, seven of them coming last year. Bob Fried (17-17), Pittsburgh's best, was entrusted with the task of stopping the young southpaw.

WILL HOLD PRACTICE
Parker Chevrolet will hold a softball practice at Centennial Park Wednesday at 5:30 p.m. All last year's players and any players interested in AA softball are urged to attend the practice.

CARS ARE MY LINE

by Al Parker

150 MILES PER GALLON

Once upon a time there was a scientist who took an ordinary car out on the highway and got 150 miles to a gallon of gas. That's right, 150 miles to the gallon — and he didn't have a magic carburetor or a car that would run on water or any Buck Rogers dream like that.

It was all quite legitimate, the only trouble is it wouldn't be practical for ordinary driving. First of all, recognizing that the drag of the tires used up most of a car's power, he shaved the treads down until they were just razor sharp edges touching the road. Then he inflated them to 110 pounds pressure.

Then he put ridiculously light oil in the bearings. He accelerated the car to 20 miles an hour, threw in the clutch and turned off the motor, and let it coast almost to a standstill before repeating the performance.

It's impossible for you and I to get 150 miles to the gallon, or anywhere near it, but the experiment did prove that tires, lubrication and driving habits have a tremendous amount to do with the kind of mileage we get from our cars.

Some of the strangest things can help increase your miles per gallon. Raving drivers know that a gleaming smooth polish helps cut down the car's wind resistance at high speeds (wind resistance is four times as great at 50 miles an hour as at 25). A smooth polish can actually give an extra four or five miles to the gallon while traveling at a steady 50.

Proper and regular lubrication is vitally important, to cut gas costs while you have the car and to assure a better price when you trade-in. If we've lubricated your car regularly we'll know what fine shape it's in when you come around to trade. If you're perfectly happy with your car and haven't a thought in the world of trading in—that's the time to start a program of regular lubricating and servicing with us.

Check this beautiful 1954 Chevrolet Bel-Air Hard-Top. It's well lubricated from end to end and has a high polish on the two-tone Turquoise and Ivory finish. Equipped with radio, heater, powerglide, etc. Priced at $1345.

Next week's column is for that one-in-a-hundred minority — the convertible driver — with a helpful and hand hints on how to care for a "soft top."

Questions And Answers

Q—What is the legend concerning the mule's inability to breed?
A—It is said that when the Holy Family traveled into Egypt, St. Joseph chose a mule to carry them. The animal kicked Joseph who became angry and laid a curse upon the animal, to the effect that it should never have parents or descendants of its own kind.

Columbiana Chamber Will Install Vapor Street Light

Light Will Be Erected At Park Ave., Route 14 Corner

COLUMBIANA — Columbiana Chamber of Commerce is preparing to install a mercury vapor street light at the southwest corner of the E. Park Ave. Ext. and Route 14 bypass intersection east of town to aid west-bound traffic headed toward Columbiana.

In the darkness of unfavorable weather conditions at night, drivers sometimes lose their way by following the Route 14 bypass when they want to reach Columbiana.

The light will be of the type installed in the town as samples by the Line Material Co. of Milwaukee, General Electric and the Westinghouse Co., and will be elevated so that it may be visible for some distance.

Roy Guy, who has been appointed chairman of the museum committee of the Historical Society of Columbiana and Fairfield Township to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Herbert Nolan, will attend the 72nd annual meeting of the Ohio Historical Society at Columbus, Saturday, April 27.

The society committee on the dedication of the Hanna family memorial in Firestone Park early in the summer is D. W. Bailey, Mrs. Alfred Barrow, Mrs. Dick Fitzpatrick, Miss Estella Esterly, George Herrmann and Willard Vaughn.

IN A COURT of honor last week, four members of Troop 40; Boy Scouts, of East Fairfield Methodist Church received high awards. Life scout rank went to Richard Mason, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mason, East Fairfield, and David Jones, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones, East Fairfield; star rank to Donald Long, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Long, RD 2, Leetonia and David Hawkins, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hawkins of Rogers.

Lee DeRhodes of Troop 40 will attend the Boy Scout jubilee jamboree in England this summer and will make the tour of Europe to follow. Long and Hawkins will attend the fourth national jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa. Troop explorers toured Youngstown Air Force Base Saturday.

Instead of its regular meeting Thursday, the Philo Class of the Methodist Church will have Brownie Troop 2 as its guest at a coverdinner in the church at 6 p.m. Tuesday, April 23. The committee is Mrs. Ellen Perrin, Mrs. Mary Tingle, Mrs. Frances Wells and Mrs. Sadie Coyle.

PIVOT—Percival F. Brundage, above, President Eisenhower's budget director, is of necessity a central figure in current struggles to slash spending. There are pitfalls, as Brundage has discovered. He was projected into the controversy over mail-service slashes when he admitted he'd turn down earlier requests because he didn't fully understand the Post Office Department needs.

HALF DAY OFF — BALL GAME

CINCINNATI (AP)—Charlie Shaw played hooky from school to see the Redlegs' opening game. That was in 1893 and he hasn't missed a first season game since.

But Shaw, 74, had trouble getting a ticket for today's sellout Redleg opener against St. Louis Cardinals. Finally fellow workers at the county auditor's office located the prized ticket.

Shaw made no excuses for requesting time off today. On his request, he said, "Half-day off. Ball game."

For gourmet oysters on the half shell; serve with nothing but wedges of lemon and lots of minced fresh parsley.

Dayton Newspapers' Strike Is Settled

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The Dayton Journal Herald hit the streets with a regular edition for the first time in six days today following settlement of a Teamsters Union strike Monday.

Local 176 struck Dayton Newspapers, Inc. Thursday after the company turned down a union demand to boost wages of 25 janitors and cleaning women by 70 cents and 60 cents an hour respectively. They were earning a minimum of $1 an hour.

The union voted Monday to accept wage increases of 50 cents an hour for janitors and 40 cents an hour for cleaning women. The settlement was similar to the company's earlier offer.

The Journal Herald and its sister paper, the afternoon Daily News, were unable to publish when mechanical department employees refused to cross a Teamsters picket line.

The Journal Herald came out with a special edition Monday, but it had only 12 pages, no advertisements, and only limited distribution.

OLDSMOBILE

GEARED TO MIDWESTERN LIVING

"You'll like it even better when you drive it!"

Neighbor: Say, your new Olds sure looks like a lot of car!

Olds Owner: That's nothing, wait'll you take a ride.

(A few minutes later:)

Neighbor: Man-oh-man, where'd all that power come from? I've never felt anything like that before!

Olds Owner: That's Oldsmobile's new J-2 Rocket Engine!

Neighbor: What's that? Tell me how it works.

Olds Owner: When you're driving under ordinary conditions, it uses only one carburetor. That means economy with a capital E. But when you need a sudden burst of power, for safety's sake, you just press the accelerator three-quarters of the way down—and two additional carburetors cut in!

Neighbor: In other words, with J-2, you can have economy when you want it and power when you need it. That's for me!

Olds Owner: Better see your Olds dealer. He's expecting you!

*Optional at extra cost on all models.
